Browsing our website

Welcome to the State Industries website for the iComm remote monitoring system. In the normal course of visiting this website, viewing its pages, or downloading information, we will gather and store certain information about your visit automatically. We use this information to help us make the site more useful to visitors -- to learn about the number of visitors to our site and the types of technology our visitors use. Unless it is specifically stated otherwise, no additional information will be collected about you.

This information does not identify you personally. We can automatically collect and store the following types of information about your visit:

- Your computer's Internet Protocol (IP) address. (An IP address is a number that is automatically assigned to your computer whenever you go on the Web.)
- The domain from which you access the Internet (for example, aol.com, if you are connecting from an America Online account)
- The Internet address of the Web site, if any, from which you came to our site.

- The date and time you arrived at our site and how long you spent visiting the site.
- The name and version of your computer's operating system and browser: for example, Windows 95/Netscape Navigator 4.5. (This information is supplied automatically by your computer.)
- The pages you visit.

Cookies

Some pages on this website employ browser session "cookies." A cookie is a small piece of data that a website transfers to your computer's hard disk to allow the server to distinguish your session from that of others while you are connected. Requests to send cookies are not designed to collect information about you, but only about your "browser session." The cookies make it easier for you to use the dynamic features of our web site. The cookies and the information about your session are automatically destroyed shortly after you close your browser. The information is not permanently stored on your computer. We do not collect personal information about you except as described above.

Website security

Appropriate measures are taken to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of information about our members, providers, employers, brokers, and anyone else that may want to use our website.

Only authorized users are allowed to access the information. A. O. Smith [State Industries] enforces a high level of protection for securing transmissions between a user's browser and this website. Content on this site is protected against unauthorized access.

E-mail security

Please be aware that State Industries cannot guarantee the confidentiality or security of any information you send to us over the Internet or when using e-mail. State Industries shall not be liable for any breach of confidentiality resulting from such use of e-mail via the Internet, nor shall State Industries be liable for any failure of the internet connection arising from the installation or use of the iComm remote monitoring system. State Industries will not use e-mail to communicate confidential unless the e-mail is secured.

Changes in Our Privacy Policy

From time to time we may make changes to our privacy policy. If we make changes, we will post them on our site to make users aware of what the changes are so users will always be aware of what information we collect, how we use it, and when we may disclose it. A user is bound by any changes to the policy when she or he uses the site after those changes have been posted.
